An Early Settlement Not Anticipated--A Riot in Constantinople--Russian Seamen on their way to America.

By Cable to the News.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 21 —The riot before the Imperial palace originated with a body of refugees who were going to present a petition to the Sultan. The disturbance ceased before the arrival of the police. All is now quiet.

LONDON, May 21.—A special to the Standard, from Copenhagen, says, the Russian iron clad Kniaz Pokarski, left there on Sunday, coaling it is understood for America.

A special to the Post from St. Petersburg reports that Prince Gortschakoff will go to Wildbad as soon as he can travel.

The Times Vienna correspondent apprehends that negotiations will not be concluded for a long time, and the expectation of the Congress meeting in a fortnight is too sanguine.

The Paris correspondent of the Times asserts that the Czar still insists that the Bessarabian question must not be submitted to the Congress.

Neither this morning's news nor last nights debate in parliament shed any new light on the situation. The debate was rather dull.

The House of Commons was almost empty. During the latter part of the debate there was less than half a quorum of members present.

Lord Beaconsfield concluded his speech in the house of Lords with the reiteration of the statement that the ministry was actuated solely by the wish and hope to secure the blessings of peace and maintain the freedom of Europe and the just position of this country.

Reaction from optimist views of last week is stimulated by the facts which are gradually becoming known concerning the Russian movements before Constantinople. Though these are stated to have been for sanitary reasons they came near precipitating a collision. The Russian line at one time pushed so near the Turkish works that the latter weremanned and ammunition was served out and general Baker, (Valentine Baker) sent an aide-de-camp to notify the Russian Commander that he would fire on him if he did not withdraw. The effect has been to attract the attention of the Turks to the comparatively weak state of that portion of their line which covers the Black Sea entrance to the Bosphorus which the Russians naturally desire to secure in case of hostilities. The Turks are therefore taking precautions in that direction.

This afternoons Palll Mall Gazette has a Berlin special saying: "Many pretended Russian emigrants are passing through Germany. It is believed they are seamen disguised on their way to Americans to man cruisers.

A dispatch to Reuters from Constantinople says: "An official dispatch to Turkish Representatives abroad thus describes the emeute which took place in that city yesterday; about 30 refugees entered the garden of the palace inhabited by Ex-Sultan Murad and raised shouts of "Long live the Sultan," Sentinels opposed the entry of these men into the palace and were fired upon, one being killed the troops arriving the assailants were driven back some were killed and wounded on both sides. Ali Suavi who appeared to have acted as the leader of the attack was killed. The affair had no other consequences. Public tranquility is undisturbed.

In the House of Commons this afternoon, Sir John Halker Attorney-General said he had heard of ships purchased by persons said to act on behalf of Russia but there was no reason to suppose the ships will be employed in the event of war as privateers in contravention of the Paris declaration; no reason to believe the United States will depart from the observance of three rules of the Washington treaty; and no necessi yfor discussing the responsibility resting on the Governments of Russia and the United States since there is no reason to suppose that they would violate their respective engagements.

Protesting Against Reducing the Army.

By Telegraph to the News.

HARRISBURG, May 21.—The following has passed both branches of the Legislature: "Whereas in the Act of Congress making an appropriation for the support of the army, a provision has been introduced for its reorganization and reduction; and whereas said proposed reduction is not desired by the people of this commonwealth, believing, as they do, that it is the duty of the National government to be prepared at all times to protect settlers in the far West, while engaged in the avocations of peace, from hostile savages, and also to prevent violations on our Southern and Northern frontiers by any parties from either side, and further, to be able to render such assistance as may be necessary to State governments temporarily unable to preserve the public peace within their several limits; and whereas for these purposes the national army is too small rather than too large, and should be increased rather than diminished. Therefore be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that our Senators in Congress be instructed, and our Representatives be requested to oppose any reduction of the national army as unwise and dangerous to the welfare, prosperity and happiness of the people of the United States.

Fenians Moving on Canada.

By Telegraph to the News.

ROCKFORD, May 21.—It is generally believed that the Fenians are making their way into Canada, preparing to move upon some of the principal points in the province.

RICHFORD, VT., May 21.—The rumor that a band of Fenians were stationed in this city was senational. Saturday and Sunday several persons passed through here on foot, but were tramps. News has been received that six hundred Irishmen are drilling at Chasey, New York, 68 miles from here. Canada people believe there is a movement for the invasion of the dominion. Representative Irishmen here refuse to be interviewed.

Explosion in a Mine.

By Telegraph to the News.

HALIFAX, May 21.—An explosion occurred this morning in the new wing of the old Sydney mines, and a large number of men are in the pit, cut off from all help.

The accident was caused by the explosion of gas. Six were taken out dead, among them being Mr. Greenwell, the chief overseer. It is thought that all of the men are now out of the pit.

Sherman's Letter to Potter.

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Sherman, in his letter to Potter, after stating the case in full, proceeds, "with the view therefore to meet this accusation, which, so far as it affects me, I declare and know to be absolutely destitute of even the shadow of truth, I respectfully ask and now make formal application to be represented before your committee by counsel in the investigation of all charges affecting myself personally." He then makes a detailed denial; makes counter charges, and asked to be furnished with witnesses whom he wishes summoned.

A sufficient force has been ordered to the place to destroy the still.

The Strikes in England.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, May 21.—The Manchester Guardian concludes from the report of the proceedings of the operatives at all points of the strike district, that little disposition exists to accept the ten per cent. reduction, even temporarily. The spinners declare they would accept five per cent. reduction outright, and nothing more. This attitude will prolong the strike indefinitely, but attempts to secure a compromise will be continued by Alderman Pickof and others.

Public Schools Among the Colored People.

From many sections of this County, we are pleased to learn that the public schools among the colored people were never more successful than during the past session. Capt. Dugger, County Examiner, by his rigid examination, is giving the county a good class of teachers both white and colored. The effect which this is producing throughout the county is the amplest justification of the Examiner in his determination to license none but those well qualified for the work. Nothing was more needed among the colored people than good, competent, earnest, teachers. Many of those who have been acting in that capacity among them have actually done more harm than good. We learn this from those who know. We have recently been informed of the closing exercises of two of the colored schools in this county one at Masonville on the 1st. inst. under C. N. Hunter and the other at Good Hope under O. Hunter, Jr. last Saturday. We are told that the pupils showed marked proficiency in their studies and did themselves and their teachers credit. At Good Hope, speeches were made by Capt. Dugger, Rev. A. H. Newton and J. J. Worlds and School Committeeman Powers. There were present quite a large number of the most substantial white citizens of the District. The two Hunters inform us, that the white people take a commendable interest in their schools wherever they have taught and that, but for their co-operation and influence they would have failed of much of their success.

Local Correspondence.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

I note the following in the Newbernian of the 18th inst.:

"MR. MERRILL AND OUR GAS WORKS.—Our former townsman Mr. Samuel Merrill, now of Raleigh, and well known in all this country for his connection with the institution of gas, an institution by the way, which constitutes one of our greatest luxuries as well as necessities, visited our city this week with the view to negotiate with the gas company here for the purchase of their works and fixtures."

Now it does not seem proper for Mr. Merrill to leave Raleigh, after working so hard for the Raleigh Gas Light Company (and I think to their satisfaction.) He has been ready and willing to fight their battles all through, and if anyone spoke disrespectfully of the company, it could not be done in his presence.

I am a customer of the Raleigh Gas Light Co., and I consider Mr. Merrill the best gas maker in the South. We have better gas in Raleigh than elsewhere, and while Merrill understands his business and attends to it, I hope it is only rumor and not reality.

Sam Merrill is a true friend, a good citizen, a thorough workman and an honest man, and I hope he will not leave us. I hope the Gas Company will make such arrangements that will induce friend Sam to remain in Raleigh, for I am a friend to both.

Let the People Rule.

Oxford Torchlight.

On Saturday, June 1st., the Democratic County Convention will assemble in Oxford for the purpose of nominating candiates to fill the respective offices of said County. There are several aspirants for some of the offices, which are within the gift of the people; and we do sincerely hope that perfect harmony may prevail. So far as we know, all the persons spoken of for these offices, are good men--men who are fully able to discharge the duties which are connected with each office. One thing sure, everybody cannot get an office, who may wish one. Such being the case, let the disappointed aspirants, quietly acquiesce in the voice of the people. Let every man stand on his own merits. If he be worthy, let him "come in;" should the people see proper, let him "step out." Our motto is "let the people rule."

Terse and True.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

Men die and go out of office. The strife continues, and its wrath, to be complete, must be visited upon political organizations, which live, and, after all, are responsible for the acts of their leaders. Such men as Sherman, Noyes and Stoughton grow small in comparison with the Republican party, which, in order to oust Tilden and seat Hayes, made itself the accomplice of such rogues as Packard, Wells, Anderson, McLin, Stearns, Chamberlain and the rest. American people are interested, first, in the vindication of free election, and second, as a means of vindicating this, they are interested in bringing the Republican party, its spirit, leaders, plans and schemes, to due exposure and punishment.

Hampton on Hayes.

Charleston News and Courier.

Governor Hampton was asked what he thought of the wisdom of "any attempt" to unseat President Hayes, Without hesitation, Governor Hampton said: "I think that any attempt to unseat President Hayes would be most unwise, unless it had been made previously perfectly clear that he was a party to a system of fraud which seated him." Governor Hampton added: "I do not believe that Mr. Hayes is, or has been, implicated in any such fraud."

WAKE FOREST.

The News--Commencement--Improvements--Honorary Members--Anniversaries.

Correspondence of the News.

WAKE FOREST, May 20.

The very kind and flattering notices you have from time to time given of us have been very gratifying to the students and friends of the College, and we are glad to see that they have not been slow to appreciate it, for the News has three times as large a circulation at this office as every other political papers combined. So much for the gallant and independent course of the News in all matters, religious, educational, political and social. Ever act in that bold and manly way and whatever the action of rings and cliques may be, the confidence and support of the people will be meted to you.

COMMENCEMENT.

The approaching Commencement is now all the talk. The Marshals have issued the tickets, and it is said the prospects were never so bright for one of the grandest educational gatherings ever assembled in our State, the University even in its happiest days producing no parallel. The Trustees will be here in force; all the Alumni are expected; the members of the Literary Societies are going to have a grand mass-meeting and social gatherings, where eyes will speak to eye, and face to face, while we grasp the hand in brotherly love; and then, to crown everything, with all the pomp and grandeur of educational triumph the corner stone of the new buildings will be laid. Grand preparations are being made to entertain the vast concourse of people that will assemble here on that occasion.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Professors Simmons and Taylor have made considerable additions to their large and beautiful residences. The hotel, under the management of that genial and ever hospitable gentleman, Maj. W. W. Dickson, is being newly refitted, with additions. Prof. Royall has just finished a very fine residence. Dr. Montague has newly painted his yard enclosure, and Mrs. Wait has put up a new one. After what I have just narrated, it would be needless for me to say we are all happy over the prospects.

HONORARY MEMBERS.

The annual election of honorary members in the two Literary Societies, resulted in the choice of Rev. Henry McDonald, D. D., Richmond, Va.; Rev. F. W. Eason, Fayetteville, and Duncan McNeill, Esq., Richmond county, for the Philomathesian Society; and T. R. Jernigan, Esq., Hertford county; J. S. Allen, Esq., Raleigh, and Rev. C. A. Jenkins, Louisburg, for the Euzelian Society.

ALUMNI ANNIVERSARIANS.

At the last meeting of the Societies, the following young gentlemen were chosen as the representatives of their respective Societies at the next Anniversary: Philomathesian Society; Orator, W. L. Wright, Troy, N. C.; Debaters, J. F. McMillan, Robeson county, N. C., and H. Montague, Wake Forest, N. C.; Secretary, J. T. J. Battle, College Hill. Euzelian Society: Orator, W. N. Jones, Raleigh; Debaters, E. F. Aydlette, Camden county, N. C., and J. N. Holding, Wake county, N. C.; President, G. T. Pritchard, Richmond, Va.

THE KITRELLS PIC-NIC.

The pic-nic to Kitrells last Friday was very much enjoyed by the Wake Forest boys, and I take this opportunity to express our thanks to the gallant Chief Marshal Col. Polk, and to the Sunday School for the kind invitation. We have invited them all to our Commencement.

Yours truly, J. F. M MILLAN.

MR. GRAINGER DENIES.

A Reply to Cape Fear in the News.

Correspondence of the News.

WILMINGTON, May 20.

In your issue of 17th inst., a correspondent from this city, signing himself "Cape Fear," takes the liberty of using my name as follows: "Isaac B. Grainger, who is not commonly suspected of strong personal leanings to Col. Waddell, has testified in conversation within the past two months, upon the ability, zeal and faithfulness of our Congressman in the matter of River and Harbor appropriations. Mr. Grainger was a member of a committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to go to Washington in the interest of our harbor improvements. I understand that he expressed himself at the time as perfectly satisfied that Waddell was doing a good work there." In reply to this, I would simply state that I have never testified or expressed myself as here stated; my views to the contrary having always been well known and freely expressed in this community.

I. B. GRAINGER.

CHATHAM COUNTY.

County Democratic Executive Committee.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Chatham have made the following appointments:

There will be a mass-meeting in the Court House at Pittsboro, on the first Monday in June, when delegates will be appointed to the State and District conventions.

On the 22nd. day of June the Townships will hold their primary meetings for the appointment of delegates to the county convention which will assemble in Pittsboro on the first day of July, for the purpose of nominating all our county candidates.

J. A. WOMACK, Ch'm.

The New York Sun.

Chicago Tribune.

Months and months ago the Tribune remarked that it would be a delightful thing to see the New York Sun supporting Ben Butler, Grant, and the Custom-House machine, before 1880, and it looks very much now as if the Tribune's anticipations were being realized.

Vance in Mecklenburg.

Charlotte Observer, 19th.

The most notable feature of the convention yesterday was the applause which greeted every mention of Gov. Vance's name. The resolutions which were introduced instructing the candidates for the Legislature to support him for United States Senator, were received with great enthusiasm and passed instantly and by acclamation without a dissenting voice.

CHATHAM COUNTY.

Falling Into Line--County Politics--The Senatorship--Smith for Chief Justice--Local Officers and Crops.

Correspondence of the News.

CHATHAM COUNTY, May 20.

We are glad to see from all parts of the State, as each county holds its Convention, that the great old Democratic party is falling into line, closing its ranks, and presenting a bold front for the work just before it. Some few independents, as a matter of course, will be on hand, and as usual, be defeated. They are always unlucky in this county.

COUNTY POLITICS.

It is uncertain who the candidates for the Legislature will be. If our worthy representative, J. M. Moring, is not in the field, it is highly probable that his place will be supplied in the nomination of W. F. Stroud, late of the Constitutional Convention, that is, if he can be induced to accept. J. A. Womack seems to be prominent for the Senate. He is a first-class man, could poll the full strength of the party, and do us credit in the Legislature.

UNITED STATES SENATOR.

We would not mention the question of United States Senator, if it were not the order of the day. Vance is the people's choice. Hon. A. S. Merrimon is a great and noble man, he is an honor to his State, and can always carry the votes of his party when properly brought out; but who will attempt to say that North Carolina can ever overpay that true and self-sacrificing patriot, Z. B. Vance. His past services demand all that this people can bestow upon him. Let us continue to honor him, and never give our enemies a chance to triumph over him.

THE CHIEF JUSTICESHIP.

The people are solid for Smith for Chief Justice; not much said as to the Associate Justices, awhile ago there was some feeling for Schenck, but by some means or other, it has played out.

LOCAL OFFICERS—THE CROPS.

Our present Sheriff, Clerk, and Register, will doubtless be retained. The prospect for fruit, especially peaches, is fine. Corn and cotton planted and up, but can't grow on account of the cold weather. Wheat almost a total failure.

BEAUFORT COUNTY.

Primary Meeting Declaring for Vance and Yeates.

Correspondence of the News.

WASHINGTON, May 18.

According to resolution of a meeting of the Democratic party of Washington township, Beaufort county, N. C., on May 17th, at the Court House, I herewith transmit to you so much of the proceedings as are of general interest. It was moved by J. E. Shepherd, and seconded by A. C. Latham, "that the delegates to the County Convention be instructed to vote for a resolution pledging the delegates to the Congressional Convention of the First District to vote for Jesse J. Yeates for Congress."

Upon motion of W. R. Myers, the following amendment was put: "That said delegates go untrammelled." Amendment lost. Question recurring on the original motion it was carried.

During the absence of the committee to select delegates, Dr. David T. Tayloe, being called upon to address the meeting, moved that George H. Brown, Jr., be invited by the assemblage to address them, and that he take for his theme "Zebulon B. Vance, North Carolina's greatest son, our present Governor and future Senator," which motion was carried.

In response to calls Mr. Brown mounted the platform, and after earnestly addressing the Convention upon the theme proposed, he closed his eulogy on Governor Vance by introducing the following resolution, to wit:

"That the delegates to the County Convention be particularly instructed to vote for a resolution in the said Convention and to introduce the same, instructing the next Democratic Representative from Beaufort county in the General Assembly to vote for Hon. Z. B. Vance for United States Senator, and that said delegates be instructed to vote for the nomination of no man for representative who will not in advance pledge himself to support Z. B. Vance through thick and thin."

This motion was greeted with vigorous cheers and was unanimously carried.

S. F. BURBANK, Secretary.

TWENTIETH OF MAY IN TARBORO.

Anniversary of the Edgecombe Guards.

Correspondence of the News.

TARBORO, May 21.

The twentieth of May was a regular old-fashioned gala day in Tarboro. The "Cotton Plant" left Washington at 6 a. m., and reached Tarboro at 10 o'clock. Captain Shepherd's company, the Washington Light Infantry, 30 strong, disembarked at the wharf, and were received by the Edgecombe Guards, headed by the Greenville Band. Capt. Bridgers, of the Guards, received the visiting soldiery in a neat little speech of welcome, which was happily responded to by Captain Shepherd in an eloquent and appropriate manner. Lieut. Colonel John W. Cotten, aided by Lieutenant Henry K. Nash, Acting Adjutant, assumed command of the battalion, and marched them up to Main street, across which a large United States flag was stretched bearing the word "Welcome," and thence down to the old Gregory House, in which the Washington company filed, struck ac coutrements and rested. At 12 m., the drum sounded the call to arms, and headed by the band, flanked by countless hundreds of piccaninnies, who danced and jogged along the sidewalk, the column proceeded to the town commons. Here, notwithstanding the steady rain which had been slowly falling all day, many ladies were seen, lending the charms of their presence to the festive scene. Battalion drill ensued, and the companies displayed a proficiency remarkable in a corps that cannot be disciplined under one organization.

After evolutions on the green sward for an hour, the column marched down to Calvary Cemetery, where the bones of General Pender are interred, thence back to the commons, when arms were stacked.

At 3 p. m. a bountiful feast, consisting of Edgecombe barbecue, lamb, ham, &c., was spread. It is needless to add that ample justice was done to this.

At night a grand ball was participated in by the military and numerous invited civilians. The ladies were out in full force and high feather.

On Tuesday morning the Washington company left for home. Thus ended the celebration of the Mecklenburg Declaration and the anniversary of the Edgecombe Guards.

KELLOGG ON HAYES.

Congress can Ask Him to Step Down and Out.

Washington Post.

What is it, Mr. Kellogg? asked the reporter.

Why, simply this: Upon the basis of Mr. Evarts's instructions to the Commission which Mr. Hayes sent to Louisiana to dispossess Packard and set up Nichols as Governor, Congress can oust Mr. Hayes at any time by mere joint or concurrent resolution, whenever a majority of each House can be brought to vote that way. Mr. Evarts's instructions set up the theory that whenever the Executive succession of a State is disputed, the dispute may be settled by the legislative body of the State, provided its legal status is unquestioned.

Hayes's Secretary of State furnished the Democrats with the law under which they proceeded to oust Packard and install Nicholls. I held that at the time Packard was elected, and so hold now. I also held that Hayes was elected. But Hayes, through his Secretary of State, instructed the Commission that the question as to who had been elected Governor must be adjudicated by the legislative body, if any could be found with an unquestioned right in law to hold their seats. This law, as I said before, if it be law at all, is organic, and hence as applicable to the Union as to a State, and Mr. Hayes and his friends will have no alternative but to submit to it if it should happen to be turned against them.

Duty on Coffee.

New York Herald.

That the removal of the duty on coffee which was imposed by the tariff acts has been of no benefit to the consumers in the United States, but has accrued solely to the advantage of foreign governments, factors and producers, will appear from an examination of the average price of Brazil coffee in New York during each of the last twenty years, as given in the table we publish to-day. The figures have been taken from the annual reports of the Chamber of Commerce of New York. The average price of Brazil coffee in this market for twenty years is shown to have been seventeen and a half cents per pound in gold.

Our Coffee Consumption.

New York Herald.

During the twenty years ended June 30, 1876, the United States imported over 2,200,000 tons of coffee. Of this amount less than 100,000 tons was re-exported and more than 2,100,000 tons was consumed by the people of the United States. The average consumption of coffee in the United States during the above period amounted to 200,000,000 pounds per annum. For the last ten years of that period the average consumption increased to over 270,000,000 pounds per annum; and for the last five years the average still further increased to more than 300,000,000 pounds per annum. The fiscal year ended June 30, 1877, the consumption was over 320,000,000 pounds.

The Worst Foes of Labor.

New York Herald.

If the workingmen are wise they will at once repudiate the advice and leadership of the demagogues of foreign extraction and un-American ideas who have managed to obtain control in many places of their organizations. Men of the Megy and Schwab species have not a single American feeling or impulse. They are unable to see the distinction between license and liberty, and have imported with them ideas and sentiments which have repeatedly deluged France in blood, destroyed its industry and plunged it into misery and misfortune.

The Locomotive Brotherhood.

Cleveland, Ohio, Dispatch.

Mr. P. M. Arthur, the Grand Chief Engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of this country, pronounced the statements characterizing the Brotherhood as Communists, socialists and conspirators against the laws of the land, as utterly without foundation, and circulated either maliciously or by those having no knowledge of the truth. The sole aim of the organization was to benefit its members, and they claimed the right only to stop work when they pleased, while discountenancing any intimidation of others or violence of any sort.

Hampton at Home.

Northern Correspondent.

The colored Democratic voter must be recognized as a factor in South Carolina politics. The Democrats of Barnwell county held their Convention on Monday, and no less than eight of the thirty-four local clubs represented were composed of colored voters, seventeen of the 154 delegates being negroes. Together the clubs of both colors have enrolled over half the voters in the county, and rendered the success of the Democrats certain in advance. Of course the Convention endorsed Gov. Hampton, as everybody in South Carolina is doing nowadays.

The Country Wants the Facts.

Springfield Republican.

There is one good thing about the investigation—it will show what there is in the mysterious talk so long current about terrible evidence against Sherman, Noyes and the rest. If the Secretary of the Treasury, the minister to France, or any other public servant has been guilty of corruption the country wants to know it. If they have not, the country also wants to know that. Let us have the facts.

Short-Sighted Partisans.

Washington Sun.

The Republicans in the House of Representatives, after a persistent effort to thwart the investigation of the frauds in Florida and Louisiana, were defeated on Friday. Their action was short-sighted. It identifies them with, and makes them responsible for, the frauds that have been perpetrated.

Too Bad.

Washington Post.

It would be very sad if Noyes were suddenly yanked across the Atlantic right in the middle of the French exposition. But probably Lieut. Zeilin and his squad of marines would manage to keep the flag flying during the interregnum.

Not Alarmed.

Washington Post.

We confess that we do not view the possible departure of Mr. Hayes from the White House with unmixed alarm. We are of the impression that the vacancy could be filled at a pinch.

FLORIDA FRAUD INVESTIGATION.

The Investigation a Public and Party Necessity.

New York World.

As time rolled on it became daily more plain that within the bosom of the party of which Mr. Hayes had been the candidate grave doubts existed as to his having been chosen by the people and as to the character of the methods by which his inauguration had finally been secured. At the Republican Convention in New York in September, 1877, the delegates, by the overwhelming vote of 295 to 109, refused to indorse his Presidential title as valid, and the World, thus put upon the trace of a most strange and suspicious condition of things political, finally succeeded in bringing out the astounding fact that Senator Conkling, the generally recognized leader of the Republican party, claims to possess an absolute knowledge of transactions connected either with the election of 1876 or the proceedings which in Florida and Louisiana followed that election as when generally known will sink the Administration in "infamy." The publication of this intelligence, to use the words of Jefferson on another occasion, roused the country "like a fire-bell in the night." It startled in the South men closely concerned with the proceedings alluded to, and brought them forward with proffers of confession. Was it to be expected that the Democrats who for nearly two years have been laboring under the stigma of idle vaporing about unproved frauds should neglect this opportunity at one and the same time of vindicating the complaints of their party and the outraged institutions of their country? Certainly not by candid and reasonable men.

Henry S. Foote.

New York Times.

Hon. Henry S. Foote, who has figured very prominently in politics, and who used to have a passion for notoriety of almost any kind, has been so quiet of late that many persons imagine him to be dead. He is alive however; in very good health for a man of his years—he will be 78 the coming September—and is reputed to be as choleric as ever. During the thirty years he was in public life he was generally involved in a quarrel with somebody, often with several men at the same time. A member of the Confederate Congress during the civil war, he was forever wrangling, and usually on the eve of personal rencounters with his fellow-members. A bitter and uncompromising enemy of Jefferson Davis, he strenously opposed every measure advocated directly or indirectly by the President of the Southern States, or by any of his friends, and consequently was kept as busy as a bee in a tar barrel. They used to say in Vicksburg, where he lived just before the war, that he could not stand 10 feet from the Prentiss House and hit it more than once out of ten times. One of his duels was with the brilliant Sergeant S. Prentiss, and, as was not uncommon in the cotton States, a number of persons went out from Natchez to witness the fight, which took place not far from the town. After an exchange of shots, Prentiss, observing a boy who had climbed into the boughs of a tree, 50 feet out of range, to get a better view, called to him, "You would better come down, my son; you may get hurt. My friend, Senator Foote, is shooting rather wildly to day." So good natured a remark ought to have mollified Foote, but it did not. A slight wound in his leg terminated the combat and increased his fame as a chivalrous gentleman and a very poor shot.

Petersburg and Weldon Railroad.

New York Times.

A movement is organizing among second mortgage bondholders of the Petersburg and Weldon Railroad, looking to the purchase of that road on foreclosure of mortgage on it, and the formation of a new management to operate it. Gen. T. M. Logan, who, as counsel, represents this class of bondholders in Richmond, Baltimore and New York, to a large amount, is here conferring with those resident in Petersburg. The road has been in the hands of a Receiver for over a year.

The Origin of Matrimony.

New York Graphic.

According to the views of the new sociologists, McLennan, Taylor, Lubbock and Herbert Spencer, all marriage began in violence, and certainly the accounts of savage tribes show that the primitive man was in the habit of lying in wait for the woman whom he had selected as his bride, of felling her to the ground with a club, and either alone or with the assistance of his "best men," dragging her off insensible to his tent. This was the beginning of the savage honeymoon.

The Railroad Survey.

Oxford Torchlight.

Maj. Roger Pryor Atkinson, the engineer engaged in surveying the projected railroad route from this place to the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad at or near Henderson, reports thus far most favorably. He finds that nature has almost marked out the track for the road. This is cheering intelligence. We believe the opinion prevails in the minds of our people we may confidently count on the building of the road. The friends of the road are greatly encouraged.

Alamance Tobacco.

Alamance Gleaner.

J. A. Dickey, of McCray's Store, was recently in Danville, and carried his tobacco to Cable Warehouse, where he sold it in three lots, at the following handsome figures, to wit: One lot for $15, one for $49, and one $56. This tobacco was raised by a cropper, Mr. J. F. Pritchett, and was a fair samples of his entire crop. Fine tobacco pays.

Wood!

I will sell, for cash, a consigned lot of wood, delivered at any house within the city limits, at the following reduced figures: Good oak at $3.00 per cord; woods pine at $2.75 per cord; field pine, seasoned, at $2.50 per cord. Also 100,000 brick, hard and salmon, cheap.

Office over M, T. Leach's store, Wilmington street. J. D. Whitaker. *

A. C. Sanders & Co., have secured the agency for Gail & Ax's celebrated Scotch Snuff, put up tin boxes and bladders. They have now a fresh stock on hand, and are prepared to sell to merchants at Factory prices. They guarantee this Snuff equal to any on the market. *

NOYES heard the thunder of the Potter resolution across the water, and begs to be allowed to forego the gaieties and pleasures of Parisian society in the midst of the exhibition to attend the more interesting sessions of the investigating Committee. He will be allowed to come.

WHAT the South is doing, and how she is gradually improving her material condition is indicated by the following paragraph from a Macon, Georgia, paper of the 18th:—The first crate of Georgia peaches left here to-day by the Southern Express, consigned to H. B. Plant, President, New York. Forty thousand crates will follow.

How they do things in the British dominions is told in the following paragraph of a dispatch from Canada:—The Government Engineer. Mr. McLight, today condemned as unsafe the Montreal, Portland and Boston Railway, running between St. Lamberts opposite Montreal and West Farnham, on the province line. No train will run over the road until further orders.

THE primary election plan is gaining ground in the South. A Chester county correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier says:—The "primary system," exciting universal attention in the State, is gradually gaining strength here. It is, of course, opposed by a few fastidious gentlemen, who think that the county had better run the risk of Radical defeat than that they should have their dignity insulted by taking a pledge.

THE hitherto impervious hide of Secretary John Sherman has at last been penetrated. The Potter resolution did it. Like the coon to Captain Scott, he concluded to come down, seeing that it is the captain, and not worth while to have the ammunition wasted merely for the fun of the thing. He writes Mr. Potter a letter requesting that he be allowed to do the committee the honor of his presence. Honest John will be accomodated.

THE Democratic party must continue to win and hold the field by aggressive politics, steadily moving on the position of the enemy, and maintaining intact, efficient and harmonious organization. This is no time for relaxing vigilance or party discipline. The Alamance Gleaner well says:—It is a very great mistake to suppose that the elections this year are of little consequence, and it is equally as great a mistake to suppose that party organization and party strength can be maintained without constant attention. Those of our Democratic friends who expect to drift to success this year, because there is nothing in the way, may discover their mistake awhile after the election.

THERE are Hampton legions in South Carolina as black as midnight. A correspondent of a Northern Republican paper says that the popularity of Governor Hampton among the colored people is only equalled by the respect, confidence and enthusiasm which he inspires in the masses of the people in every condition of life. The United States Senatorship is within the easy grasp of Governor Hampton, but it is the judgment of all Northern people, Republicans and Democrats, who have visited South Carolina, that it would be a public calamity should he vacate the Executive chair before having served out another term. Considering the condition in which he found the State, socially, politically and materially, the rule of Hampton in South Carolina, in all its results, is perhaps the most remarkable in the annals of popular government.

Nominations in Mecklenburg.

As was foreshadowed through the township primary meetings, Capt. S. B. Alexander, Col. Jno. L. Brown and Mr. W. E. Ardrey were nominated for the Legislature in Mecklenburg on Saturday last, but the Observer containing the announcement did not reach this office until yesterday.

In the selection of Mr. Alexander for the Senate, recognition was given to one of the most prominent agriculturists of the State, and it is a nomination in every way worthy to have been made. Mr. Alexander is Master of the State Grange, and a leading farmer himself; he is in every sense thoroughly identified with the great farming interests of North Carolina. A modest and unassuming gentleman, his merits betrayed him and the office sought him out. Called upon to speak in the County Convention, he said he felt especially gratified for the honor which had been conferred upon him, for the reason that it was the custom of the people to select as their representatives men who had spoken and written on public measures, and he had never done either. He had, however, supported all the measures which the Democratic party has advanced for the good of the country. He could only promise now to use all his ability to make the people of Mecklenburg a good representative.

The position which Mr. Alexander occupies in the Grange Order, will give him a commanding influence in the Senate in behalf of the great material and industrial interests of the people, and his election will be a matter of public importance to the State.

Colonel William Johnston was voted for by several of the townships, but it was announced that he was not a candidate, as also Colonel Ham Jones, who was voted for, Captain Alexander, however, carrying a majority of all the townships in the county. In view of the foreshadowed legislation touching railroads on the subject of freights, Colonel Johnston, who is confessedly one of the first of our railroad men, would have made a valuable Senator for his county and the State at large.

Colonel Brown and Mr. Ardrey, the representatives selected are gentlemen of well known ability, and thoroughly identified with the interests of the people, Mr. Brown having for many years been identified with the commercial interests of Charlotte, and Mr. Ardrey having before been in legislative life, and is a farmer in Mecklenburg. The county and the general public have cause for congratulation on the ticket chosen.

The Primary Plan in Nash.

The plan of primary elections has been tried in Nash county, and found to work to the entire satisfaction of the people.

B. H. Bunn, Esq., Chairman of the County Democratic Committee, has issued an address, calling a County Convention, to assemble on Monday, the 27th, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State and Judicial Conventions, and for nominating candidates for the Legislature and the various county offices. The address also gives notice of the primary election which is to be held in every township in the county on Saturday, the 25th.

The plan is to elect, by ballot, on Saturday, at a poll opened in each township by the township Democratic executive committees, five delegates from each township, to attend the County Convention at Nashville on Monday following; no one voting but Democrats, the unmistakable will of the people must be fairly expressed. The chairman of the county calls upon all the Democratic voters to turn out and send up the delegates of their choice, and urges in strong and appropriate terms a full election, as a public duty on the part of all Democratic citizens, and as the only guaranteed mode of assuring the harmony and perfect preservation of the party organization in the county. The address is a ringing, patriotic paper, and indicates that the Democracy of old Nash is in the same fighting trim that characterized it in other days.

The plan of primary elections has been little tried at the South, and few persons in North Carolina are aware that it has been the mode in Nash for two years or more. That it has worked well there, is evidenced by the excellent condition of the party organization in that county, and that the people are pleased with the plan may be taken from the fact that they adhere to it.

The objections, if any exist, to the system, are not apparent at first blush, while it would seem that an expression of the people at the primary poll would prevent the possibility of what is called "packing" in conventions, township and county meetings, and from which springs but too frequently dissensions and dangers in our party ranks, often resulting in independent candidatures, through which some of the valuable men in our ranks have become alienated from the party.

The News is glad that the gallant Democracy of Nash has tested and exemplified the primary elections in North Carolina, and for another State campaign it may suggest itself to the State Executive Committee to recommend the system generally throughout the State. If there be the good in it that apparently there is, and if it is an improvement on the old, then let us adopt the primary election plan as a part of the Democratic system of North Carolina, for all our elections.

Our Sea Side Resort.

Accessible to the people of the greater portion of North Carolina, we have but one seaside summer resort, which invites public patronage, and that is in every way so admirable that the wonder is it is not a more noted place, attracting large patronage from other States.

Beaufort presents as fine ocean front as any resort on the Atlantic coast, the sea breezes are nowhere surpassed, and the beach for surf-bathing is not equalled by any. The fishing is fine for those who enjoy the sport, sailing good and safe, and there are abundant points of interest to those fond of sailing and exploration. Shooting is also good, and Shackelford's banks present the finest field for shell-gathering. The living at this place is good, the facilities for supplying the tables with all the luxuries of land and water as good as any point in the country. Altogether Beaufort presents attractions for those who enjoy a stay at the sea-side, which, for the same amount of money, are not offered at any other sea coast place in this country.

The three Hotels appear in very attractive advertisements in the News, and they promise the comforts and accommodation usually found at watering places. The Ocean View Hotel is the former Ocean and Front Street House, improved, and the proprietor is well known to former patrons of the Atlantic. The Sea Side House was lately erected near the Atlantic, stands on an eminence in full view of the ocean and Fort Macon, the tide flows almost to the very doors, and is a desirable summer residence. The Atlantic stands over the water, the tide ebbing and flowing under it, presenting a novel attrcation to upcountry people. It commands the full unobstructed view of the ocean.

This seacoast resort of ours is well worth bringing to the attention of the public. There is here involved a great principle of domestic economy. Those who can spare the time and money must seek summer recreation somewhere, and the fashion has been to go out of the State for that which we might as well afford them at home. And in spending our money at home we build up properties and places that yield a revenue to the State and go to make up the general wealth of North Carolina. It is only by patronizing and building up our own institutions that we can look for the growth and improvement desirable within our borders. Our people are beginning to appreciate this in a thousand ways, and learning to act upon it. But the press cannot too frequently direct public attention to facts of this nature and of such practical benefit to the people and the State.

The Alamance Democrats.

Alamance Gleaner.

Democratic county mass-meeting next Saturday. Come out all ye Democrats and let us reason together, and not get ourselves into such a snarl as our brethren have done in some counties.

Hayes and the Fraud.

There is no repose in the White House for the presidential head.

Surrounding himself by men besmirched with fraud; conferring the distinction of high office upon every creature identified with the glaring frauds perpetrated to place him in the office, Mr. Hayes created an atmosphere of suspicion around him in which no healthy thing could thrive.

The great crime of the century was of a character and magnitude not to long remain concealed, and among the first to disclose the crime, and the manner and means of its perpetration, were the instruments selected for its consummation, who, sensible of the very important part they had played at the birth of the administration, construed the slightest hesitation in rewarding them, into cold premeditated neglect. Hence the eagerness with which they came forward with the details of their infamy.

Congress could not fail to take notice of the presidential frauds after the participants therein proclaimed them to the world, and hence the investigation just ordered. Nothing uttered or published within the space of a year has added anything to the public sense that a great crime had been committed. From the very first the American people were as well satisfied of the fraudulent counting in of Mr. Hayes, as if each and every citizen had possessed intimate knowledge of the fact. But little by little, the details have come out, and tangible clues for investigation are now in possession of Congress and the people.

Predominating public sentiment, on the fourth of March, 1877, acquitted Mr. Hayes of any guilty knowledge of, or participation in the Presidential election fraud, and among his opponents were large numbers willing to accord him sincerity in the belief that he was honestly elected. But it is not so now. It did not remain so long after he came into office. Everybody who knew anything about the transactions in Louisiana felt assured that John Sherman prompted the frauds perpetrated by the Louisiana returning board. Mr. John Sherman was promptly given the position of Secretary of the Treasury. So of Wm. E. Stoughton, of New York, another visiting statesman, and who made no concealment of his fraudulent manipulations in the secret as well as the open sessions of the returning board. Mr. Stoughton went as Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court of St. Petersburg.

In Florida, Governor Noyes was the chief procurer of fraudulent returns and falsifier of the election records, and appears to have spoken authoritatively for Mr. Hayes in promising places of reward for villainy. He went as Minister to France. Governor Stearns, of Florida, who covered himself all over with infamy, was made a Commissioner to wind up the affairs of and sell the Hot Springs reservation for the government. McLin was made Judge of a Territory; Humphries, who perjured himself, Collector of the port of Pensacola; Packard, Consul to Liverpool; and Wells and Anderson provided for in the New Orleans Custom House.

Scarcely a scoundrel, if one had time to enumerate the whole list, lost his reward. These things startled the country and men who had accorded Mr. Hayes high merit, were compelled to change their respect into contempt. The Southern people, who especially applauded the declarations and the conduct of Mr. Hayes in respect to his policy toward the South, and yielded him a prompt and cordial support, were loth to connect him with the frauds by which he was placed in the position to which the votes of the people had called another, but public sentiment here as elsewhere has finally settled down to the conviction that Mr. Hayes is a guilty usurper.

The investigation ordered, will develop whether the President really was a party to the frauds that carried him into the office, and if it shall be demonstrated that he had no part or parcel in the great crime of the century, there are no people who would more gladly welcome such intelligence than they at the South. But until such vindication is made manifest, the impressions that Mr. Hayes was a participant in the damnable conduct of his party will remain. Every indication points unmistakably in that direction, for toward every one of the infamous gang who, by fraudulent practices made his election, the conduct of the President has been that of a guilty chief in the power of his henchmen. He has entertained at his table men of disreputable character, and given willing audience to creatures to recognize and associate with whom would damn the reputation of any man, however high in position, and no matter how honorably that position was attained.

DAILY NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, ... MAY 22, 1878.

An Indian Relic.

LINES SUGGESTED ON PLOWING UP AN INDIAN ARROW.

Written for the News.

Said relic of a vanished race
By ploughshare from its resting place
Has brought to light.
An arrow share of pointed stone,
Perhaps with which caused a dying groan
In deadly fight.

Tell me thou relic of the past,
In chase or battle were you cast,
With hurried speed?
Or did your maker bid you fly
And pierce the stag in death to die,
His lodge to feed.

How many ages intervene
Since thou hast witnessed battle scene
In this calm dell,
Speak, for thou can'st tell a tale
Of conflict red with faces "pale,"
And savage yell.

Wast thou a messenger of woe?
Caused thou the blood of life to flow
From human heart?
Or wast thou shot in idle jest,
Forever in this vale to rest,
A random dart,

Or hast thou in some wigwam hung,
And listened to some sachem's tongue,
Of prowess great;
As he dilated on the past
And how the future should be cast
For happy fate,

Or hast thou heard the impassioned lay
Of lovers true at twilight gray,
When evening fades;
As they in loves sweet transport hung
Breath'd by a free unfettered tongue
To dusky maids?

Or hast thou heard the last good bye,
Breath'd by a brave, the maidens sigh
In sorrow sore,
As he went forth in death to fall
The spirits loud from dreamland call,
Return no more?

My questions vain you answer not,
And he who fashioned you forgot,
As he we must;
The swift revolving wheels of time
Bear us so swiftly, to that clime,
Where all is dust.

Ages hence what shall remind,
The plough boy of this field, or find
Some certain trace
Of those who boast of liberty,
Of progress great, and claim to be
The nobler race?

Ye men who boast of wisdom great,
Of knowledge deep to rule a State,
Beware, beware.
Carve out no monument of shame,
Nor foul disgrace your age and name,
Claim, claim, no share.

Whate'er of good or wrong we do
Posterity will judge us true,
And they may find
Perhaps of us a meaner trace
Than arrows of a heathen race.
We'll leave behind

Weather Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—For the South Atlantic and East Gulf States, rising barometer except a temporary fall in former; warm southwesterly winds, v ering to cooler north easterly and partly cloudy weather and possibly rain will prevail.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

— See notice of Maj. Winder as to a desirable located cottage.

——A [illegible] license has been issued to S. H. Marks & Co, Petersburg, Va.

——The State Treasurer yesterday issued a drummer's license to Benedict, Hall Co., New York.

——The articles that appear in our "Growlery" excite a deal of comment about town. They contain some capital hits.

—— Only one case, a drunk and down, was tried in the Mayor's Court yesterday. The offender was sent to the quiet shades of the guard house, there to linger for the space of 12 hours.

——Some rarely beautiful flowers are displayed by Mr. Fairchild at the saloon of Mr. Fentress, on Fayetteville street. Flowers have such an effect in brightening up a street.

——Mr. Jno. A McDonald, committeeman, has given notice that a Convention of the Republicans of the Second Judicial District will be held in Tarboro, Edgecombe county, on Tuesday, the 18th of June next.

——The New Bernian says: We regret to learn that the health of Rev. R. W. Lide has not improved. He has been earnestly requested by christian friends in Raleigh to go that city and place himself under medical ireatment, which he expects to do.

——The financial results of the Orphan's concert here are gratifying. From the sale of tickets $70 was realized, while the collection at the close of the performance gave $50. From private contributions the sum of $55 was obtained. The total was thus $175. The next performance is at Goldsboro.

Monthly Parade.

The Raleigh Light Infantry, Capt. Francis H. Cameron commanding, will have their monthly parade this afternoon. The corps will march to St. Mary's and in the beautiful grounds hold a dress-parade.

St. John's Guild.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of St. John's Guild will be held in the Reading Room, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. A full and prompt attendance is desired, as business of importance will be presented for the consideration of the Guild.

Good Table.

We have overheard several of the boarders at the Waller House mention the fact that the table is always supplied with every delicacy that the season affords. Now it is a certain fact, that if "mine host" Waller continues to please his guests in the future, as he has in the past, he will never lack boarders, especially if his rates continue as liberal as they are at present. He always publishes his Sunday bill of fare in the Sunday morning's issue of this paper. Look out for it.

The Capitol Gates.

Cannot some means be arranged whereby the gates of the Capitol square may be so arranged so as to open and close easily, without the useless clangor and eternal breakers that now give so much trouble to pedestrians? Were the gates pivoted in the center like those of the Capitol square in Richmond, all the present trouble would be avoided The present ones here are of primitive design, are continually out of order, inconvenient, and the noise they make as they strike is very annoying. Col. Turner with his promptness in attending to things of the kind, will doubtless avail himself of this suggestion.

Gov. Vance's Western Tour.

The Governor is as usual giving the public the benefit of his knowledge, by delivering addresses on various subjects. The Piedmont Press, of Hickory, says: The people throughout this section are eagerly looking forward to the coming of Gov. Vance. He will be at Newton on Tuesday, 21st inst., to deliver the literary address at the closing exercises of the school at that place. He will then go to Rutherford College to deliver the address before the Societies at that place on the 22nd. The Commencement Exercises at the College will begin on Tuesday and end Wednesday. It is expected that a very large crowd will be at both places.

Always Take Receipts.

We heard not long since, an anecdote which may point a moral. At the conclusion of some legal transaction, the client promptly paid his lawyer the requisite fee, and after so doing, insisted with particular earnestness that a receipt in full be at once given him. Upon inquiring as to the cause of his great desire for a receipt, the client stated that he wished to be prepared, for that when after death, he should go heavenward. St. Peter would meet him at the gate, and ask for his receipt from lawyer ———. Turning towards his legal adviser, he continued: "And should I not be able to produce this, think of my awful trouble, for I should have to search hell through to find you." Lawyer expires to slow music.

Wake Forest College.

The Marshals are sending out invitations to the Commencement exercises of this institution, which are to be held on the 11th, 12th and 13th days of June. The oration to the literary societies will be delivered by the Rev. Henry McDonald, D D, of Richmond, Va. Sermon to the graduating class, Rev P S Henson, D D, of Philadelphia, Pa, Alumni orator, Hon C W Bount, Wilson, N C. Social gathering in literary halls, complimentary to the graduating class, Thursday, 7:30 oclock p m. Marshals—Philomathesian, J F McMillan, Robeson county, N C; W J Rodgers, Wake county, N C; C R Strickland, Wake Forest, N C. Euzelian, W G Ferebee, Camden county, N C; J G Covington, Monroe, N C; J Y Hamrick, Cleaveland county, N C.

The Oxford Orphan Asylum.

We are led to speak of this Institution by recalling a few of the remarks of its Superintendent, Mr. Mills, at the Concert given by the pupils on Monday evening. His words bore the impress of truth, and he stated that it cost about $500 to raise a boy, and give him a good English education. A man so brought up and taught is worth ten times the sum expended to his state. He alluded to the number of men of marked ability and prominence, who were thus nurtured and were able to prove themselves powers in the land. He referred to the necessity of state aid and care for this work, and of the advantages accruing from such a system. The children who find in this asylum a refuge and a place of education and preparation for the stern duties of this life, rarely fail to find good situations, or else are adopted.

The expense of maintaining a child at the Asylum is found to be about five dollars per month. For this sum they are fed clothed and taught. A singular fact that has been once again proved by the experience of this Institution, is that in time of prosperity we are apt to torget those in want and suffering. But when we ourselves become subject to trials, our hearts open to even the silent pleas of the distressed, and we give liberally of our worlds goods. In the darkest days of the great panic of 1873 the contributions to the Asylum were larger than ever before or since.

This noble charity puts up a plea to us for aid. The children who are now making the tour of the state, practically illustrate, in the most forcible manner, their training. It is hoped that aid may be given them unsparingly. There are in this band twelve little singers, eight girls, four boys. Their sweet, sad faces utter a silent appeal which reaches every heart.

Messrs. W. T. Blackwell Co.

The above named firm of "Tobacco Kings," have in the last few years, gained a reputation, both in this country and abroadun surpassed by any other American house intheir line.

We take this occasion to compliment the ability and business qualities of the junior partner and manager of the firm, Mr. Julian S. Carr; a young man whose life for the last six or eight years has been a series of success, unsurpassed by those of any other man of his age in our State. The reliable goods manufacturtured by the firm, seconded by the genius of Mr. Carr in advertising them into sale, is another story of "a good thing well advertised, is bound to succeed." Our readers will find still another handsome cut of the "Bull" in this issue. If it be possible for a bull to butt the engine off the bridge, "Blackwell's Bull" is the best one we know of to bet on.

Yesterday's Storm.

Ominous looking clouds tossed their frowning shapes high in air yesterday afternoon, while the sultry, brooding heat gave but an added warning of a coming storm. At 5 p. m. this broke upon us, with a rushing gale that tossed the tree-boughs in wildest way, a rain which fell in torrents, blown in whirling sheets by the power of the gale, while incessantly the thunder crashed and and vivid lightning glared. The ever-while sultry air was cooled by the hail which fell in showers. The streets, storm swept, became but flowing streams; while the down pour blotted from the sight all distant things. But after storm comes the sunshine, and this at length burst out, revealing but a brighter foliage, and nothing harmed.

Excursion from Goldsboro.

A party of excursionists from the Baptist Sunday School of Goldsboro, came into the city yesterday morning. They numbered about 200. Their stay here was spent in the usual sight-seeing, promenading, shopping, &c. The usual base-ball club were members of the party, and indulged in a game with our youngsters. A match game was played in Nash Square between the Goldsboro "Young Americas," and the "Raleigh Juniors," in which the ——— club were the victors by a score of —.

The excursionists returned to their homes in the afternoon, after having, to all appearances, spent the day agreeably.

Licentiates.

Dr's C G Bryan, Rich Square, J R McLellan, Morrisville, R K Gregory, Greensboro, Augustus W Knox and W W Jones, Raleigh, W H H Cobb, Goldsboro, Algernon M Lee, Clinton, D Stuart Lyon and Paul B Barringer, Charlotte, E H Hornaday, William Green, John A Pollock, Kinston, John H Tucker, Henderson, Peter McLean, Shoe Heel, R J Noble, Selma and J Wellington, Faison Fulton, N C., having passed satisfactory examinations before the Medical Board of Examiners at its session in Goldsboro, May 14, 15 and 16 inst., received license to practice medicine in its various branches.

By order of the President,
CHAS DUFFEY, JR., Sec.

For the Penitentiary.

Sheriff. Z. F. Long on yesterday brought down five convicts from Richmond county, all convicted of larceny. Their names and terms of imprisonment are as follows: F. C. Weaver, white, 10 years: Butler Sanders, 5 years; Arelin Leach; 5 years; Geo. W. McEaclin, 4 years; Joe Little, 2 years.

These prisoners all get sentences of of good length. The expense of conveying convicts is large. and when as occurred the other day, a prisoner is brought from an extreme eastern county, sentenced for only one year, the State is the looser, since the expense of transportation to the Western Railroad must be added. The state cannot in that space of time earn enough to repay the outlay, that is the labor of the convict is not worth as much.

Marriage at Hillsboro.

Dr. Augustus W. Knox, of our city, was on yesterday united in holy wedlock to Miss Rebecca Cadwallader, daughter of Dr. Pride Jones, of Hillsboro. The ceremony took place at Hillsboro, upon its conclusion the happy pair left for this city. They were accompanied by Mrs. E. W. Knox, of New Berne mother of the groom, and by Mr. Wm, A. Knox, of Chicago, his brother. The party leaves for New Berne this morning. In their married life they have the most cordial wishes of the News for continued and perfect happiness and prosperity.

Capital Crimes.

There were on yesterday six persons arraigned in our Criminal Court for capital crimes. Of these five were charged with burglary and one with rape. The cases are all of such a nature as to excite deep interest, while the case of rape is one of peculiar character, its perpetrator having, as is charged, committed the crime upon his own daughter. The trials will be witnessed by throngs of listeners. At first glance it would appear that the morality of our community is at a low ebb, but such is not the case.

Pic-Nic.

The teachers and pupils of the Sabbath School of the Church of the Good Shepherd pic-nic to-morrow at Milburnie. The assemply will be at the school house, in rear of the Rectory. The procession will thence start at 8 a. m. The means of transport provided are omnibusses, wagons etc. The exercises of the school at Milburnie will be pleasing and the day will be given up to wholesome enjoyment.

Magistrate's Court.

Justice Charles D. Upchurch tried a couple of cases yesterday. The one of the State vs. Nat. Debnam, on a charge of assault and battery, resulted in the binding over of the defendant to appear at this term of Criminal Court, in a bond of $100.

The case of the State vs. Rufus Smith, for false pretences, was dismissed, the parties having compromised.

Funeral of Mr. Andrews.

The funeral of Mr. Bartlett Andrews, who was for many years a resident of our city, but who had some years ago removed to Granville county, where he died on Sunday last, was conducted at the Salisbury Street Baptist Church yesterday morning. The remains were interredin Oakwood.

Opinion of Dr. R. S. Steuart, President Maryland Hospital, Baltimore:
"I have used Colden's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator for more than a year, and recommend it as one of the most efficient preparations I have ever met with. It combines the virtues of food and tonic in a remarkable way." Williams & Haywood, Agents.

Out of Tune.

When the tones of a musical instrument become harsh and discordant, we say it is "out of tune." The same may be said of that far more wonderful and complicated piece of mechanism, the human structure, when it becomes disordered. Not only actual disease, but those far more common causes, overwork, mental anxiety, and fast living, may impair its vigor and activity. The best remedy for a partial collapse of the vital energies, from these as from other causes, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is at the same time an agreeable and mind cheering cordial, and the best possible invigorant in all cases of debility. It is an incomparable stomachic and anti-bilious medicine, eradicates fever and ague, and prevents subsequent attacks. It remedies with certainty and thoroughness bowel and kidney complaints, dyspepsia, nervousness, rheumatic troubles, and many other bodily ailments. It also counteracts influences which predispose to disease.

IMPROVED TURBINE WATER WHEEL

which is superseding Over-Shot and all other wheels, where economy, durability and costs are called in question.

These Wheels have been fairly tested, under all heads of water from 4 to 20 feet, and in same Water-house with some of the boasted wheels of the North, and they have invariably given as good or better results, with same quantity of water.

Mill-Owners and others, who use water as a propelling power, would consult their own interest by testing the merits of this Wheel, before sending North for an inferior and less durable one, at greater costs.

This Company is an association of practical Mechanics and Mill-Wrights, some of whom have been engaged in the business for forty years, and know whereof they speak.

They are qualified from long training and experience in all kinds of mill gearing and machinery to guarantee satisfaction in plan, style of work and cost. Their daily increasing orders for Wheels from all sections, were tried, is reliable testimony that theirs is the rising wheel.
